ST MARY'S SUTTON MADDOCK CHURCH

The Memorial Plaques: note particularly the plaque in the tower to William Farmer and his wife, Elizabeth. Elizabeth Farmer was a descendant of Francis Yates of Donnington, who helped Charles II during his stay at Boscobel (and it is said that Charles II passed through Brockton on his way from his defeat at the battle of Worcester to hide at Boscobel). William Farmer emigrated to Canada with his family, his servants, and all his livestock.

The East Window: over the altar. This magnificent window was given in 1908 by Mr. Charles Bruff of Coalport China Factory in memory of his mother Mrs. Harriet Deborah Bruff who lived to be 102. In 1923, the wooden reredos behind the altar was presented by Mr. Farmer Jones of Brockton Cottage. Unfortunately, the screen obscured part of the east window, and the Bruff family never came to this church again, even though a few inches were eventually sawn off the screen to make the whole window visible again.

CONDOLENCES

Our condolences to the family of Barbara Thomas age 76years of Norton, whose service was on 14th June at Stockton Church.

.....And to the family of Audrey Nicholls who died on 22nd June aged 98years. Audrey and her late husband John, lived in Sutton Maddock for many years. Her funeral is on Friday 12th July at 3pm, The Vale Crematorium near Pershore.

.....And to the family of David Tooth of Beckbury, who died on Saturday 29th June. Funeral arrangements to be made

.....And to the family of John Miles of Badger, who died on Saturday 29th June. Funeral arrangements to be made

Year 13 Student Prayer (from Year 13 Leavers Celebration)

Psalm 16:

Protect me, O God; I trust in you for safety. All the good things I have come from you.

How wonderful are your gifts to me, how good they are!

You Lord are all I have and you give me all I need; My future is in your hands.

How wonderful are your gifts to me, how good they are!

I am so thankful and glad and feel completely secure, You protect me from all my fears.

How wonderful are your gifts to me, how good they are!

You show me the path that leads to life; Your presence fills me with joy and brings me pleasure forever.

How wonderful are your gifts to me, how good they are! Amen

UNDERSTANDING DEMENTIA

“When people ask me how best to navigate relationships after a dementia diagnosis, I have only one answer: keep talking. I’ll admit that it sounds simple in theory, and might not be so in practice, but that very much comes down to the individual.

I can still smell the air of my own kitchen, heavy with the scent of baking and sweet cakes that I had decorated in all different shapes and sizes, ready to sit down for that chat with my own daughters and discuss my power of attorney. That was my way of making that conversation just that more palatable, but others will know what will work best in their own family.

Naively, I thought then that this awkward conversation would be a one-off. Perhaps I assumed we’d got the hardest conversation out of the way first as we sat down with pens and paper and cups of steaming tea, discussing everything from how I wanted to be cared for when I had tipped over the edge, to whether or not I would want to be resuscitated. It was clear even then how differently my two daughters approached the same subject. I describe it as a talking exercise, but really it was a listening one. What I hadn’t considered then was that this conversation would need to be repeated again and again as we were faced with new challenges.

We know from everyday conversations how confusing language can be. Even when you are speaking directly to someone, how many of our conversations result in crossed wires? When two people think they’ve talking about the same thing in the same way, confusion can still reign. Add into the mix navigating a new future with a disease that is progressive and unpredictable, with its own rate of decline, and there are so many hazards to negotiate.”
